

Dear Dr. Small:

May I suggest that you start selling "Body by Tzvi" tank tops? At age 46, I would certainly not hesitate to parade around in one as a living testament to your skills as a reconstructive surgeon.

Two years ago, your talents made it very easy for me to view my double mastectomies and TRAM flaps as cosmetic enhancement rather than cancer surgery. And at this stage of the game, I wouldn't even care if you DID leave my head on those photos you took, because I look even better than I did when I was 29!

Enclosed is a small token of appreciation for you to listen to during surgery...you mentioned it was your favorite. Please feel free to have any of your prospective patients in the future contact me for my enthusiastic endorsement of your capabilities.

Thank you.....you are the best.

Hope you know how much it was appreciated!

It's ALL good.

All best,
Anna Hewa
